A Guide for Parents If You Are Concerned That Your Child Is Being Bullied:

1. Contact your child's form tutor in the first instance, then the Year Team if you are still concerned.

1.1 Homophobic bullying:

Students that are, or perceived to be gay or lesbian can be the victim of homophobic bullying. This abuse can be either verbal or physical. Haydon School will not tolerate bullying on the basis of sexual orientation. Students are taught to accept one another for their differences.

1.2 Racist Bullying

Students from various backgrounds, ethnicities, cultures, religions can be the victim of racist bullying. This abuse can be either verbal or physical. Haydon School will not tolerate bullying on the basis of religion, ethnicity or background. Students are taught to accept one another for their differences.

1.3 Cyber bullying: Chat to trained people their own age.

Be aware of age restrictions for each site. Keep a record of the bullying e.g. screen shots and print outs.

1.3.1 Mobile Phones – Advice for students

- Don't reply to any nasty messages you receive.
- Keep the messages that you have been sent so you can show someone.
- Don't answer any calls from a withheld number, or from a number you don't know.
- If it gets really bad, you could change your number.
- If you change your number, only give out your new number to close friends.
- If the problem is serious, tell the police or call ChildLine for free on 0800 1111.
- Don't keep it to yourself or try to deal with it alone. Tell an adult you trust, like a parent, grandparent or teacher. It helps to talk.

Mobile phone operators can't stop or block a particular number from contacting another phone, but you can do this on some types of phone. Check your phone user guide to see if yours can. Mobile phone companies can only take action on the bully's account, such as blocking it, if the police are involved.

1.3.2 Social Networking sites (e.g. Facebook, Instagram etc.): It is good practice for social network providers to make reporting incidents of cyber bullying easy, and thus have clear, accessible and prominent reporting features. Many of these reporting features will be within the profiles themselves, so they are "handy" for the user. If social networking sites do receive reports about cyber bullying, they will investigate and can remove content that is illegal or breaks their terms and conditions in other ways. They can delete the accounts of those who have broken the rules. www.thinkyouknow.co.uk for more information, help and resources.

- 1.3.3 The UK's national centre for protecting students, the Child Exploitation and Online protection (CEOP) Centre encourage social networking providers to adopt a one click button for students to get immediate police help.
'CLICKCEOP' was launched back in 2006 as an online button for young people to use whenever they are in danger on line. It has already been adopted by hundreds of sites including Facebook, Instagram and Twitter.

By clicking on the link, students can access a range of advice and guidance from organisations such as the Internet Watch Foundation (IWF), Childline, Beatbullying and GetSafeOnline, as well as CEOP's own specialist teams.

Students can also use the link to make reports to CEOP's specialist police teams.

- 1.3.4 Contacts of some social network providers:
Snapchat – report an abusive user by visiting support.snapchat.com/abuse
Twitter: report an abusive user by visiting https://Support.twitter.com/forums/abusive user.
Facebook – Click on 'report' which can be found near all posted content (a small 'cog' symbol)
Instagram – report an abusive user by visiting help.instagram.com

You can find additional information on reporting internet abuse by visiting www.stopcyberbullying.org

- 1.3.5 Video-hosting sites: It is possible to get content taken down from video-hosting sites, though the content will need to be illegal or have broken the terms of service of the site in other ways. On YouTube, perhaps the most well known of such sites, it is possible to report content to the site provider as inappropriate. In order to do this, you will need to create an account (this is free) and log in, then, you will have the option to "flag content as inappropriate". The option to flag the content is under the video content itself. YouTube provides information on what is considered inappropriate in its terms of service. See www.youtube.com/t/terms section 5C.
- 1.3.6 Chatrooms, individual website owners/forums, message board hosts: It is good practice for chat providers to have a clear and prominent reporting mechanism to enable the user to contact the service provider. Users that abuse the service can have their account deleted. Some services may be moderated, and the moderators will warn users posting the abusive comments or take down content that breaks their terms of use. 2. If you suspect your child is being bullied:

- 2.1 Calmly talk with your child about his/her experience
- 2.2 Make a careful note of what your child tells you, who is involved; how often
- 2.3 Bullying has occurred; where it happened and what happened
- 2.4 Reassure your child that he/she has done the right thing to tell you about the bullying

- 2.5 Encourage your child to talk to their Form Tutor. If they do not wish to inform the Form Tutor yourself.

3. Talking with teachers about bullying

- 3.1 Try and stay calm – bear in mind that the teacher may have no idea that your child is being bullied or may have heard conflicting accounts of an incident
- 3.2 Be as specific as possible about what your child says has happened – give dates, places and name of other children involved
- 3.3 Make a note of what action the school intends to take
- 3.4 Ask if there is anything you can do to help your child or the school
- 3.5 Stay in touch with the school; let them know if things improve as well as if problems continue.

4. If you are not satisfied

It is recognised that bullying is not easy to control. You may have to be patient with the school but the best advice is for you to keep encouraging your child to talk to staff if they continue to experience problems. The most effective way to stop bullying in the longer term is to continue to work together to solve the problem. The school does not wish for your child to be unhappy any more than you do.

5. What to do if your child is bullying other students.

Many children may be involved in bullying other students at some time or other. Often parents are not aware that their child is involved in bullying.

Children sometimes bully others because:

- 5.1 They don't know it is wrong
- 5.2 They are copying older students whom they admire
- 5.3 They haven't learnt other, better ways of mixing with their school friends
- 5.4 Their friends encourage them to bully
- 5.5 They are going through a difficult time and are acting out aggressive feelings

To stop your child from bullying others

- 5.6 Talk with your child; explain that what he/she is doing is unacceptable and makes other children unhappy
- 5.7 Make an appointment to see your child's Form Tutor; explain the problems, discuss how you and the school can stop him/her bullying others
- 5.8 Regularly check with your child how things are going at school.

6. Finally:

Whilst we are confident and proud to say that few students are bullied at Haydon School, it is not an area where we can afford to be complacent. Even if one child is bullied, it is one young person who may not be happy and able to fulfill their potential, and therefore it is our collective responsibility to work hard to ensure that bullying is effectively dealt with in Haydon School.
